DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-10 and 12-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Applicant recites a "bread maker" but fails to disclose any structure which would allow the device to make or bake bread. There is no heating means or bread dough preparation means disclosed in the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hedenberg '850.

There is disclosed in Hedenberg a bread maker, comprising: a frame (outer housing) to form an oven compartment; a kneading drum 88; an oven 81, 82 including a rear part and a side part accommodated in the oven compartment; and an insulation 15 provided between the frame and the oven (see fig. 15).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-10 and 12-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Balaguer in view of Oslin.

There is disclosed in Balaguer a cooking device, comprising: a main body 32, 34, 36, 38 forming an oven compartment; an oven 22, 24, 26, 28 including a rear part 26 and a side part 22, 24 accommodated in the oven compartment of the main body; a space provided between the main body and the oven; and an insulation member 40 interposed in the space.

Oslin discloses that it is known in the art to having a spacing part between an oven and a main body, the spacing part being protruding members (bracket) 212 formed with an apparent screw hole to accommodate a screw (see figures 3, 4, 7 and 8) passing therethrough and connecting the main body and oven and creating a space which is filled by insulation 34. The protruding members being located at the side, rear and door of the oven.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide the device of Balaguer with spacing members as taught in Oslin, in order to provide structural support and a rigid connection between the oven and oven compartment.

The location and protruding direction of the spacing members is an obvious matter of design choice, since the structural support can be made at all locations of the device, front, back or sides and the direction at which they protrude has no bearing on the overall function of the spacers.

Claims 5-7 and 15-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Balaguer in view of Sakamoto.

Sakamoto discloses that it is known in the art to use brackets as a spacing member between an oven and oven main body.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide the device of Balaguer with the spacing members taught in Sakamoto, in order to provide structural support and a rigid connection between the oven and oven compartment.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
